RIALTO ADDS MOD-ERN SOUND SCREEN

IMPROVED, ENLARGED VISION AND SOUND

Again Manager George N. Olson comes to the front with the latest and best improvements in motion and sound pictures. A new sound screen and increased electric power brings the Rialto Theatre up to a quality that isn't surpassed by any theatre in Michigan. That is saying much and is a statement that cannot be refuted. There is nothing better made for this line of business than that now in operation in the Rialto Theatre right here in Grayling.

The old silver screen that was 9x12 feet in size has been replaced by a Magnoscreen screen 12x16 feet in size which adds 25% more surface. This screen is scientifically made and reminds one of a fine netting. It shows the pictures perfectly and permits the sounds to pass thru the screen, thus the sound appears to come directly from the person speaking.

Another new feature is the addition of a ticket chopper. Admission tickets dropped into it are ground to a pulp.

The Rialto Theatre is not only up to the last minute in equipment but it also provides most comfortable seating, rug covered isles with floor lighting and excellent ventilation. Good productions are being offered for each performance, many of the ones reaching here almost as early as they are shown in the metropolitan

The Peerless are lamps driven by 220 volts of direct current, double the power over that formerly used thus adding tremendous volume to the lighting. And as a measure of safety a three-inch cork floor covered with cement has been built in the projecting booth.

theatres. Mr. Olson is to be congratulated upon his enterprise in keeping Grayling on the map in the motion picture line. Nowhere in the north are there any better theatres and the theatre-going public has long since learned that they will always find here what is to their liking. The Rialto Theatre attracts crowds from other cities for miles around. This is of immense value to Grayling generally as well as to the theatre. We believe the people generally appreciate what Mr. Olson is doing for Grayling in that way and for the patrons of the screen in this vicinity.

According to reports emanating from the department, a delegation of Frederic citizens, called at the State Department of Conservation at Lansing last week and demanded that Charles Craven, a fire warden residing in Frederic, be fired. The members of the delegation were John W. Payne, superintendent of schools, Wm. and Ace Lenz, J. O'Dell and Otis Weaver.

The delegation is said to have charged Mr. Craven with intoxication and political activity. It seems that recently the department had issued an order to its employees to stay out of politics. The demands of the delegation it is reported were that Director Hogarth notify Mr. McClure, district warden that he should let Craven go at once.

This seemed to rouse the ire of McClure who claims Craven has been a capable and dependable warden, whereupon the Department sent a representative here Monday and a meeting was held in Frederic that afternoon with the members of the complaining delegation, the accused and members of the department, including McClure, District Warden Hicking of Kalkaska and Reuben S. Babbitt of Grayling.

On just what transpired at this meeting we are not informed but we understand that the Department will reconsider the dismissal of Mr. Craven pending the result of this investigation.

It appears that Mr. Craven is a "six-month" man and at the time this matter came up was not in the employ of the state and that he had not received notice to keep out of politics. The entrance of a second ticket in the field for township office this spring is probably being blamed upon Mr. Craven. The latter is a candidate for the office of township clerk. He served as supervisor of Frederic township for a number of years.

A petition is being circulated asking the State Department of Conservation to make further investigation of this matter. The petition already contains three pages of signatures.

MRS. SUE SKINGLEY—1899-1930 Mrs. Sue Skingley passed away at her mother's home in Beaver Creek township, Crawford county, Wednesday, March 18th, 1930. She had been ill for a long time, her condition gradually growing worse until finally the Angel of Death called her.

Mrs. Sue Skingley was born in Austria-Hungary, Nov. 17th, 1869. She came to the United States with her mother in 1898, going to Chicago where she stayed until 1926. She then came here to make her home with her mother in Beaver Creek township.

She was united in marriage to Arthur Skingley August 4th, 1928. To this union were born two children, Elinore and Patricia who with her husband mourn her loss. She is also survived by her mother, and father and one sister.

Services were held in Grayling at the Michigan Memorial church Friday, the Reverend J. W. Greenwood officiating. Interment took place in Elmwood cemetery.

It is sad indeed that this young mother was called from her home where she will be sincerely missed.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness and death of our wife, daughter and sister. Also for the beautiful floral offerings and Reverend Greenwood for his consoling words.

MERCY HOSPITAL—REPORT OF 1929

Grayling, Michigan

In this report of the past year, we attempt to show to our friends and benefactors, who are to a large extent responsible for our success, that the charity and confidence bestowed on our institute has not been misplaced.

The care of the sick is a privilege and a positive Christian duty but no thinking person would suggest that this can be accomplished without money.

We have an endowment with which to meet expenses, as many institutions have, but we endeavor to provide the best care and attention to the sick for the least money. The sum derived from the patients is not sufficient to keep up repairs and make any marked improvements. Therefore we must depend on the benevolence in order to accomplish our "ideals," and carry on our work.

On looking over our records, we find that 502 days services were served in Charity. According to the Dietary report, 216 meals were served to travelers looking for work.

Statistics are as follows:

Total number of patients admitted 505
Total number of days service 6,698
Average number of days of each patient 13.4
Number of meals served to patients 20,088

Medical cases 178
Surgical cases 185
Obstetrical cases 26
Communicable cases 62
Accidents 64

Patients remaining in hospital, December 31, 1928 20
Cured 381
Improved 70
Unimproved 12
Deaths unexpected 6
Moribund, died within 48 hours 9
Patients entered unconscious 7

We gladly avail ourselves of this opportunity to thank all those who contributed to the Hospital in any way, whether in cash, flowers, fruit, furniture, furnishings, decorations, and other articles. Too much praise cannot be given to the Hospital Aid and the Graduate Nurses Alumnae for their untiring interest and the excellent work they have accomplished at their meetings.

We also feel not less grateful to our citizens in using their influence to awaken the interest of those who do not understand what a Hospital means to a Community and the support it should be given. As medical science advances, new departments are created, modern equipment must be installed, hospitalization becomes necessary for diagnosing cases.

With the increased number of patients, more space is required, also more nurses are in demand to carry on the work of the several departments.

With this in mind the great problem of housing all, confronts us. Can We Reduce The Cost?

A survey made of cost of items in two hundred fifty hospitals—assessed against our patients—cost of rooms—relation between Hospital and Medical costs—general income of the Hospital and general outlay.

We find that were it not for the endowment of the Nursing Sisters, life of service for the Master's afflicted ones, no Hospital could operate on the income that accrues to it from the charges made to patients.

To illustrate let us take an imaginary case of a rather serious operation. We figure on the basis of a total cost, to the patient of $450.00.

20% to the hospital $90.00
22% to the graduate nurse $99.00
58% to the surgeon and assistant, X-Ray and Lab. service $261.00

If it is true that the Hospital has to operate on 20% it is our conviction that it cannot reduce the cost of operation and at the same time maintain its attained efficiency.

J. McCLELLAND KILLED IN ACCIDENT

BAY CITY RESIDENT WELL KNOWN IN GRAYLING

The sad news has been received of the death of Mr. Jack McClelland of Bay City who died in the Memorial Hospital in Owosso March 19th at 2 a. m. of a fractured skull.

Mr. McClelland was a brakeman on the Michigan Central railroad and was injured Tuesday afternoon when he was brushed off a box car by a standpipe and struck his head on a journal box. The car was being shunted at the time. He never regained consciousness.

At the time of the wreck of the Cannonball June 13, 1923, it will be remembered that Jack McClelland, who was a brakeman on the Michigan Central, threw a switch for his train to pass onto track No. 1, which is next to the main line, but in some way this engine got over onto the main track, heading into the "cannon ball" and sidwiping it, throwing the engine and several loaded freight cars into a mass of wreckage and not giving the men on the "cannon ball" engine a moment to save themselves. The bodies of Bernard Conklin of Grayling, Frank Ayres and Henry Flack of Bay City, were pinned between the locomotive and tender.

Mr. McClelland, who was 43 years of age, is well known in Grayling, being a brother-in-law of Mrs. Daniel Hunk of this city. He is survived by his widow, who was formerly Anna Blomdin, and eight children.

This was indeed very sad and the people of Grayling are sorry to hear of the family's misfortune.

TWO MILLION AMERICANS ABOVE 65 NOW OBJECTS OF CHARITY

(By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.)

An authority on old age dependence states that there are now 2,000,000 individuals in this country above the age of 65 who are wholly or partly dependent on others for their support. After a survey of the situation among the aged poor in America the man responsible for these statistics says:

"Thrift and habits of saving on the part of individuals constitute one of the most important bulwarks against old age dependency but in my opinion something more, something over and above individual thrift is necessary if we are to abolish old age dependency. I refer to an old age insurance or pension system which, I believe, would unquestionably raise the general standards of living and eliminate the fear of old age."

Perhaps, as is here indicated, a national old age pension law is advisable but it is not the purpose of this article to go into this point.

We must not forget that society has its obligations to the unfortunate individual. But what are the obligations of the individual to his own interests?

As long as people are taught that thrift means merely saving money and that all the individual need concern himself about is putting money in a bank, we shall continue to hear the sorry stories of old age dependency.

Manifestly, our greatest need is for individuals to understand that true thrift consists of planning an economically successful life. This means that in addition to saving money, time must be employed in the development of an increased earning capacity; good health must be conserved to prolong the years of productivity; investments must be made that will yield a dependable income; insurance must be carried to protect one's self in case of accident or illness and safeguard the future of one's dependents, and the monthly Board of Trade dinner will be held Wednesday, April 2nd at 6:00 o'clock at the Club rooms. President T. W. Hanson says he wants a big attendance.

Has a surprise in store for those who attend. This promises to be one of the most interesting meetings of the year. Please be there and bring your wives.

Very sweet foods have a tendency to blunt the appetite for other foods that supply materials the body needs. It is best to serve sweets in small quantities, toward the end of a meal.

When the public ceases to regard thrift merely as saving money and learns to appraise it from the broader aspects as here pointed out, we shall have reached the period in our national life when old age dependency is much less a public problem than it is today.

WALSH SHOWS TALENT AS AUTHOR-DIRECTOR

Fox Director Works Without a Script on Movie-tone Talker, "Hot for Paris" Which Co-features McLaglen, Fifi Dorsay, El Brendel and Polly Moran

Not alone the most successful director of pictures in Hollywood, but the most unorthodox in his methods, Mauritz Walsh, famed for his direction of two record-breaking pictures, "What Price Glory" and "The Cock Eyed World," whose current all talking Fox Movietone production "Hot for Paris," comes to the Rialto Theatre Sunday and Monday, March 30 and 31.

Walsh works without a script, makes added scenes when the picture is completed but never a retake, is gracious in giving credit to others for dialog and the like, but furnishes most of it himself, never uses megaphones, and makes a life long friend of every one who works with him in any capacity.

"Hot for Paris" is based on a story idea which came to him while in a flying boat coming from Catalina Island to the mainland one day. Arriving at his Malibu beach home he wrote a synopsis of the story, made a few changes and then threw it away.

During the making of the picture, each day's work was planned the previous night.

The story deals with the first mate of an Australian windjammer who buys a ticket on "Dark Japan," a junk outsider in the Grand Prix. "Dark Japan" wins and this means a million dollars to the holder of the ticket. Then ensues a wild chase to find "Duke," played by Victor McLaglen, the holder of the ticket and his efforts to evade his pursuers as he thinks they are trying to arrest him.

The chase brings McLaglen and his Swedish sailor pal, El Brendel, into contact with Fifi Dorsay, a singer and dancer in a French cafe. A romance between McLaglen and Fifi buds and is carried on through the exciting and hilarious events of the picture, aided by Polly Moran.

There are many song interpolations by Fifi Dorsay and McLaglen sings a number, "I'm the Duke of Kikiyaki." The songs in the picture are compositions of the famous duo, Walter Donaldson and Edgar Leslie.

The supporting cast includes such well-known and decidedly capable players as Anita Murray, Lennox Pawle, August Tullberg, George Fawcett, Charles J. Hall, Eddie Dillon, Rosita Marstini, Agostino Borgato and Yola D'Avril.

Charles J. VanKonger, responsible for the very fine photographic work in "Hot for Paris" and who has been in Hollywood since 1915, has supervised his former efforts in this production, for which William K. Wells wrote the dialog.

Free Want Ads. to Subscribers

During the month of March all "For Sale" and "Wanted" ads in the Avalanche will be run free to paid-in-advance subscribers. This gives our subscribers an opportunity to advertise any articles they have no further use for—chairs, stoves, cars, furniture, phonographs and records, farms and other land, etc. Also, there will be many things you will want. Someone, undoubtedly, has just such an article as you are wanting and by putting a little wanted in our paper you will find just what you want.

Of course those in business will understand this offer does not apply to goods which they carry in stock for sale. It does apply, however, to articles not connected with their business which they wish to dispose of, or something not connected with their business which they wish to buy.

This offer is not made as an inducement for anyone to pay their subscription—we don't have to. The Avalanche, we believe, has the best paid up subscription list in northern Michigan.

It is simply a good-natured effort to extend the usefulness of our Want-Ad. department to our friends, and is another added feature to make the Avalanche more valuable to its readers.
